

WILLOW GROVE RACES

End of the Meet of the League Wheelmen.

OVER 45,000 IN ATTENDANCE

The Great Mile Open Professional Final Heat Won by Earl Kiser.

PHILADELPHIA, August 7.—The greatest race meet in the history of American cycling came to an end this evening at Willow Grove park, when the eighteenth annual meet of the L. A. W. closed. In attendance there has never been a race meet that has even approached it. During the two days of racing nearly 45,000 persons witnessed the driving of the cracks from all parts of the United States, from Mexico and the Canadian crack, Loughead, for fame and prizes. Yesterday's attendance of 15,000 was very nearly doubled today, with an attendance of between 25,000 and 27,000. In the professional racing all the circuit chasers showed themselves to be in fine form, which resulted in the closest and most strategic competition that has been witnessed in a long time.

Fred Loughhead, the Sarina, Out, led who carried off the honors yesterday, kept his fine work today, but Earl Kiser, leader of the team, won the half-mile professional and the great mile open professional. A purse of $500 was divided among the winners of the latter race. Eddie Bald also added to his reputation, and while his rivals appear to his credit, yet his seconds in the mile open and the five-mile professional finals were within hair's breadth of being first. In each and every race in which he competed he displayed remarkable judgment.

Major Taylor, the colored crack, was his favorite in the half-mile professional heat, while won by him and finished in good style. For a while it looked as though he would be the winner of the final, but the others proved too speedy for him, and the best he could do was to land a very close fourth.

GERMAN AFFAIRS.

CLOUDBURSTS IN THE EASTERN PART OF THE EMPIRE.

No Intention of Beginning a Tariff War Against the United States.

BEAUMS, August 7.—The cloudbursts and inundations which have devastated the eastern part of Germany are the worst which have occurred since 1870. According to the local statistics, 105 persons were killed in Silesia alone and in Saxony the casualties will not fall short of 150. The financial losses foot up over 150,000,000 marks.

Johnny Zimmerman rode an exhibition half mile in 0.62 8-5, and Arthur Gardner, paced by quads, did a mile in 1.44. This brought the racing to a close. Mile, open professional, final heat—Bald had the pole with Kiser, Gardner, Eaton, Cooper, and Major Taylor in the order named. There were two no-matters. Cooper caught them all. Kiser, Bald, and Taylor followed as named. There was no change in the first four. Bald was on the last lap Gardner and Eaton swung out from the rear with the colored boy at their heels. Bald came after them, however, at a hot pace and the whole line bunched closely in the stretch. Bald forced ahead, but Little Earl Kiser fairly lifted his wheel ahead, winning by a few inches. Bald second, Cooper third. Taylor was fourth. Time, 2.03 6.

Mile, open amateur, final heat—E. C. Haunwinkel, by a wheel's length, Geo. H. Collett second, Chas. M. Ertz third. Time, 2.03 4-5.

Mile, handicap, amateur, final heat—Ray Murphy, 70 yards, won. J. A. Gauthier, 100 yards, second. R. M. French, 100 yards, third. Time, 2.06.

Five miles, championship professional, final heat—On the turn into the stretch Mertens and Bald were in the lead; there was a spill, leaving only four to finish. In a beautiful sprint, Mertens won, Bald second, F. A. McFarland third. J. A. Newhouse fourth. Time, 1.43.

The next event was the five-mile championship professional run in three heats. First three to qualify, H. R. Stinson, Dayton, Ohio, won; C. E. Novotny, second; Charles A. Church, Philadelphia, third. Time, 12.14.

Second heat—F. A. McFarland won; A. C. Mertens, third. Time, 11.42 1-5.

Third heat—Eddie Bald was first; J. A. Newhouse, second; L. A. Calahan, third. Time, 11.32.

During the race all the cracks took advantage of the opportunity for practice runs, and with the stands around the track were filling rapidly, the train was moving in loads. By 3 o'clock 30,000 people were present and others were still coming.

The first event was the one-mile open amateur. There were eight heats, first two to qualify.

First heat—F. R. Hatterson, St. Louis, won; Ed Llewellyn, Chicago, second. Time, 2.10 3-5.

Second heat—George E. Raith, New York, won; H. W. Hindendorf, Louisville, second. Time, 2.07.

Third heat—Charles Ertz, New York, won; Charles Felton, Springfield, 2. Time, 2.16 3-5.

Fourth heat—W. E. Tenseler, Broad Brook, Conn., won; F. P. Goetzlader, Almonte, Pa., second. Time, 2.14.

Fifth heat—A. Powell, New York, won; George E. Raith, New Haven, Conn., 2. Time, 2.13 3-5.

Sixth heat—E. C. Haunwinkel, New Haven, won; E. E. Stevens, Buffalo, 2. Time, 2.23.

Seventh heat—R. A. Miller, New York, won; E. W. Peashley, Chicago, 2. Time, 2.21 1-5.

Eighth heat—E. M. Blake, Keene, N. H., won; Lunde, Cold Spring, N. Y., 2. Time, 2.18 3-5.

The great amateur, open professional race was the last of the preliminary trials to be run. All the big fellows were entered. There were seven heats, the first two to qualify.

First heat—Tom Cooper won. S. Stevenson 2, Time, 2.00 3-5.

Second heat—Major Taylor won, J. A. Newhouse 2, Time, 2.13.

Third heat—Longhead won, C. R. Newton 2, Time, 2.14 1-5.

Fourth heat—J. Eaton, Elizabethtown, N. J., won; Owen Klinbush of Louisville, 2. Time, 2.14 2-5.

Fifth heat—Kiser, won; Coleran 2, Time, 2.09 4-5.

Sixth heat—In the stretch Bald, who had been lying third, shot out from the

THERE'S more or more for raisins: That means prosperity for Fresno.

THINK-THINK raisins are assured. That is good, and more will be better.

WELL all other dried fruits advancing in price it is folly to suppose that raisins are going to stay at the bottom.

THE NEWPORT garter show is not going to be much after all. The gaudy bracelets will be on anything but exhibition.

WHEAT is wheat and raisins are raisins. Both will be good hard cash and plenty of it before the season is over.

A SUBSTANTIAL backbone is a mighty good thing for the raisin and fruit grower about the time the market opens.

THE estimated wealth of New York's grand jury is $125,000,000. The law-breaking trusts in that locality must be in a cold sweat.

THE calamity bowlers are doubtless making just as much noise as ever. The difference is that the hum of reviving industry makes it more difficult to hear them.

THE Los Angeles Times demands that politics be kept out of the water question. That ought to be easy. If it were the whisky question, now, it would be different.

THE story that Mrs. Lease was to be queen of the wheat fiesta at Topeka and wear a $20,000 crown turns out to be a fake. But Mary Ellen is still a living, moving, audible reality.

IF CANADA should happen to find its'fessor Andro prospecting for the north pole it would soon tax on the outfit that would fairly make the balloon sweat at 40 degrees below zero to carry the load.

SOCRATES in the Arctic circle will be considerably less exclusive when the nugget chasers mix up with the Esquimaux and polar bear. The cold hau-tem of select circles always gives way when manhood demands adhesion.

THE announcement that President McKinley will be compelled to abandon his proposed trip to the Pacific coast this summer is a disappointment. Now that prosperity is fairly setting in people are more anxious than ever to see the advance agent.

MR. BROWN is said to have some brand new funny stories about the high price of wheat. There is no question about the mirthfulness of the subject.

It is a great deal fonder for the farmer than the low price of silver is for the miner.

THE most utterly dispirited and woe-begone thing in this country today is the calamity. After four or five years of unalloyed happiness he sees all that is most dear to him eluding his grasp and fading away like darkness before the rising sun.

VISALIA is making elaborate preparations for celebrating the completion of the Valley road. With Orator Alford, the Widows' Friend, a big barbecue and a score of lesser attractions, the historic old town is likely to be overrun with enthusiastic visitors.

THEY SCREAM say they voted for protection on raisins and dried fruits because they are luxuries. Just think of luxuries which have been cheaper than horsefeed for the past three or four years. But they voted right, anyway, and for a good reason, even if they won't admit it.

THE Good Templars of Visalia have filed a protest with the Valley road celebration committee asking that a bull fight shall not be advertised in connection with the celebration. The team bullfight has a barbarous sound, but if it is anything like the affair held in Fresno not long ago under that name the only objection that can be raised is that it is on the ground of cruelty to the hood spectators.

A SCIENTIFIC note says that it has been finally demonstrated by Professor Alfred M. Mayer of New York city that there is a film in the air on the surface of water strong enough to uphold a small piece of chemically clean and dry metal. That may account for the taste which some people have for water as a beverage. They dislike to drink a lot of strong air in order to get at the water.

THERE is one curious thing about the photographic reproductions of the Erasmian expedition in that paper. Joaquin Miller looks up like a giant among pygmies. Among the few fellow citizens at home the poet appears rather small of stature. Whether this is poetic license in a pictorial sense or is due to the effect of the aurora borealis on the kodak is a question that should be authoritatively decided.

A PHILADELPHIA scourge pleaded in mitigation of his offense that he was going to see his girl and was late in keeping his appointment. He contended that no limitations should be put upon the constitutional right to pursue happiness, and the judge accordingly tempered justice with mercy and let him go. When more ordinances collide with the constitution the former are likely to get a wheel or two smashed to smitherenes.

THE prosperity haters say that the business improvement in California is due to the demands for our products by the Klondyke gold hunters, but they will hardly have the nerve to claim that the latter times all over the country are attributable to that fact. The fact is that the hole into which the calamities are compelled to crawl is an unconformably small one.

THE Stock Mart says that keno is the Fresno. This is partially true, closed in.

Two games are still running in defiance of the order of the trustees. But keno will be closed in Fresno; that is certain. If it is not reached in one way it will be in another. The REPUBLICAN does not believe that the trustees of the city will recede from a position that is as meritorious as the stand they have taken against this most demoralizing form of gambling.

THE BUSINESS REVIVAL.

A few months ago when all was uncertain regarding the outcome of tariff legislation and business was moving slowly and haltingly, the Democratic papers never tired of quoting the reports of Bradstreet and Dun and in extolling the accuracy and reliability of their announcements of industrial and trade conditions. But these newspapers have suddenly lost all interest in trade reviews by these able compilers. In many of their columns they no longer find place, and the extolling editorial writer is stricken with writer's cramp or some more serious malady.

The reason for all this is very apparent. The trade reviewers are at the stand telling the truth about business conditions, but those conditions are in flat contradiction of the dark predictions of the calamity newspapers, and consequently they are finding such refuge as they may in eloquent silence.

Bradstreet's under date of August 6th shows a week of remarkable improvement in nearly every branch of industry. The advance in all lines of farm products is marked and demand for manufacturers is increasing. Exports not only of wheat and flour, but of corn and other American products show a rapid increase over last week and a marked increase over this time a year ago. But it is the healthy tone of the home markets that indicates the most marked change.

Dun & Company under the same date say:

Four years ago, August 5, 1893, the first number of Dun's review was issued, with failures in that month amounting to over $60,000,000, while in the months just closed failures have been only $7,117,727, the smallest in any month since 1892.

The statement of failure for July and for forty-six months shows that in every month there has been a smaller than in any other month except one, and in any other month except one, and in many branches of each department, smaller than in most months of which records exist. The pessimists who pronounced reports of great fictitious and misinterpretation, have grown weary of their dismal views and begin to see the dawn of better days.

That the long-drawn and anxiously expected business revival is at hand no reasonable person can doubt. The strange part of it is that it should be so easily and reluctantly received by any class of people in this country.

PRESIDENT ANDREWS' CASE.

There appears to be some misunderstanding in regard to the facts surrounding the resignation of President Andrew of Brown University. Those who are undertaking to justify the attempted restraint of the president in giving expression to his financial views base their argument on the ground that the students of the university have been instructed in accordance with the theory held by Mr. Andrews. If this were true, President Andrews should not have been permitted to resign but should have been dismissed.

It goes without saying that neither sectarian nor political dogmas should be taught in the schools of this country.

Instruction in politics or religion, in other than sectarian schools, can only be tolerated upon the broadest fundamental lines.

It is apparent that President Andrews committed no such offense. He upheld his views outside the university but did not teach them there. This being the case the attempt to restrain him was nothing less than an outrage, which will stand, as it should, upon that of the facts are stated.

The right of free speech, within the bounds of reason and loyalty, is too well established in this country to be attacked. The opponents of President Andrews have made a foolish mistake if the facts are stated.

THEY SCREAM say they voted for protection on raisins and dried fruits because they are luxuries. Just think of luxuries which have been cheaper than horsefeed for the past three or four years. But they voted right, anyway, and for a good reason, even if they won't admit it.

THE Good Templars of Visalia have filed a protest with the Valley road celebration committee asking that a bull fight shall not be advertised in connection with the celebration. The team bullfight has a barbarous sound, but if it is anything like the affair held in Fresno not long ago under that name the only objection that can be raised is that it is on the ground of cruelty to the hood spectators.

A SCIENTIFIC note says that it has been finally demonstrated by Professor Alfred M. Mayer of New York city that there is a film in the air on the surface of water strong enough to uphold a small piece of chemically clean and dry metal. That may account for the taste which some people have for water as a beverage. They dislike to drink a lot of strong air in order to get at the water.

GROWING BUSINESS.

The White Front Stores' Addition About Completed.

The new store built for one of the departments of the White Front Stores is about completed. In itself it is a magnificent large store extending from the corner of Main and Market to the full width of the side block. When completed, the greater White Front Store will be larger than many of the big department stores of San Francisco and other cities. The institution will be of even greater benefit to Fresno than ever before. Much has been saved to the people of this valley by the business methods of the White Front Stores, in the past, it is confidently expected that they will be able to do even better in the future. A much larger stock will be carried, the good books will be late in the long and prices will be sold on the very lowest margin. Big things may be expected for Fresno buyers from the White Front Stores in the future.

RETIRE FROM BUSINESS

Co-Operatives Will Not Pack This Season.

CASH PRICES CATCH THE GROWER

Meeting of the Stockholders of the Producers' Association

Yesterday.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Producers' Raisin Packing Company yesterday afternoon it was decided to retire from business if a sufficiently large pack cannot be obtained during the season at hand. The outlook is that many growers who have heretofore been members of the association will sell their crops to dealers for cash, and it is not believed that the co-operative institution can secure raisins enough to warrant putting up a pack.

Most of the co-operative packinghouses in the county will probably be closed this season for the same reason that compels the Producers to retire.

The following are the associations of growers who have been in business and who have engaged in business during the past few years: The Producers of Fresno, Madison, Easton, Oleander, Madera, Union at Las Palmas, Fowler, Selma, Kingsburg, Dinuba and Reedley.

While the establishments were operated independently of one another, they all had their pack through one head, W. F. Forsey, manager of the Producers, disposing of the output of all the packers. The associations have had varying success during the years they have been organized, and they were an important factor in the business because of the large amount of raisins they handled some seasons.

But it seems that the market was misjudged last year, and that about half the pack of all these packinghouses was held in the expectation of a rise in prices after the beginning of the year. But the rise did not materialize, and the packers lost some of their growers because they could not hold on to cash before the holidays at a loss.

GREAT CLEARANCE SALE.

Kutner-Goldstein Co.'s Latest and Greatest Effort.

The announcement of a great clearance sale at Kutner-Goldstein's to begin tomorrow, August 9th, and the list of prices advertised show this sale to be the most remarkable in many respects that has ever been held in Fresno.

The Esquidor last evening made a mistake when it said that no money was found on the body of the deceased, although he had been known to have had over $100 the day before. The evening paper advanced a theory that robbery was probably an object of the shooting. The fact was the undertaker found $37 in the clothes of the deceased and turned the money over to Coroner Long, who now has possession of it.

A BIG CROWD ASSURED.

A free concert and co-operative entertainment will be given in the Burton Auditorium Monday and Tuesday evening, August 9th and 10th, by the great American Concert and Oratorio Company. This company of refined artists and instructors have visited Fresno several times before, and the performance they give, while absolutely rare, is exceedingly good, surpassing many shows that charge large admission fees. The admission of the company is most laudable, being entirely in the interest of California. One of the artists is a well-known and highly regarded artist who has been invited by the management this season, and will render a large number of new and fine selections. The stars are splendid, all having been made especially for this season's engagement. All are kindly invited.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The Dairymen Have a Big Grievance.

AFTER THE SMALL DEALERS

The Indigent List Cancelled—Bids Wanted For the New Bridge.

YUKON GOLD REGION

New Facts Given About the Interior.

REPORT BY JOSEPH E. SPURR

There is Plenty of Room for Many More Prospectors and Miners.

The supervisors disposed of unfinished business yesterday morning and then adjourned for the term. This was the shortest session the board had for many months, it having taken that body only one week to transact the business before the board.

One of the first matters to come up before the board was a petition from the dairymen of this city. The dairymen complain that while their business is regulated by a county ordinance, their herds subjected to rigid inspection and they have to pay city license, there are no laws to each who operates a dairy farm to four or six cows, and no laws to people living in the addition and in the city without paying any license or being subjected to any regulation whatever. The petition alleges that there are about 200 cows exempt from taxation and inspection and that their owners are thus enabled to put inferior milk on the market at a lower price than that sold by the petitioners, which must be of a certain grade.

The dairymen say that this is unfair and that another ordinance passes more comprehensive than that now in force, which will include all dealers whether large or small. They suggest that every dealer be required to register his name, residence and number of cows owned, on the 1st of January and 1st of July of each year, with some county official designated by the supervisors, the lists to be published in some newspaper of general circulation. Each dealer is to be given a small registration fee, the same to be fixed by the board. All persons engaged in the business of dairying must make application to the county inspector of dairies for the inspection of his herds, stable, food, water, supplies for gathering and distributing milk, and upon receiving a favorable certificate from the inspector may exhibit the same at the registration office they shall be entitled to register. Any person selling, giving or furnishing milk without the proper certificate or registration is to be fined not less than $10 nor more than $100. The singers of this petition are J. B. Hill, H. G. Parsons, William McWhinney, F. H. Calderwood, J. V. Story, L. S. Weymouth, James Camay and F. P. Burris.

The board took no action on the matter. There is little doubt that a vigorous remonstrance will be presented to the supervisors by the persons against whom the dairymen's petition is aimed, and the board will be compelled to make a ruling which will keep a cow. There is nearly always some milk left over, and this is either given away or sold at a small price. They are not dealers and subject to being considered such. Such an ordinance as proposed by the dairymen would ever prevent them giving away milk they do not use themselves, and if they did not wish to be classified as dealers they would either have to throw away their excess or get rid of their milk.

The board directed Clerk Johnson to advertise for bids for the construction of a bridge over Kings river, according to the plans and specifications provided by the county surveyor. The bridge will be built at what is known as the "lower crossing," in section 18, township 18, range 20 east. The mining laws differ for different gulches. Generally the claim is for 500 feet for gulch diggings from river rock to bed rock, but in some cases not paying well an effort is being made to stake claims 120 to 132 feet long. Overhauled creeks are still allowed to be staked out, but it is allowed to stake more than one claim in his own name, save the discoverer, who is allowed 1000 feet instead of 500. The only officer in the republic of miners is the recorder, appointed by popular vote, one in each gulch or creek.

THE WOFFORD MURDER

A COLD-BLOODED AND PREMEDITATED CRIME.

Opinion of a Member of the Coroners' Jury—Shot in the Neck.

P. P. Brooks, who lives on California avenue about 6 miles from this city, came down last night from Cascade, where he had been visiting his family. Mr. Brooks served on the coroner's jury yesterday morning in the inquest on the body of Lewis A. Wofford, who was shot and killed Thursday evening by Pat Headon. The following story was brought out at the inquest:

The shooting occurred at the corral on the Headon place, and there were no witnesses to the tragedy. Mr. Brooks considers that the testimony showed the killing to be a premeditated and cold-blooded murder. It appears that young Headon took up or claimed his brother's gun and shot Wofford's wife, Mrs. Headon, and Rose, voting negro, who was unsuccessful. Many alone were present.

The coroner reported that he had held three inquests. Two were cases of suicide and one of the child who took an overdose of wine.

After discussing some matters of minor importance the board adjourned.

Arrested While Cashing a Draft.

LOS ANGELES, August 7.—Peter Etchegaray, a young Basque, was arrested today while in the act of cashing in a German American Savings bank a draft for $400, which he had stolen in Ventura from a countryman named Peter Etchegaray.

Accompanied Headon to the corral and on the way he talked about the killing. He declared Wofford had shot twice at him and that he had been lucky. Wofford's pistol was in his hand. He then showed Wofford's pistol to the women. They told him to put the weapon back where he had found it, and in doing so Wofford's body, saying, "that's where I got it." He then stated that he was going to Madera to give himself up.

It seems that Headon claims he went to the house after Wofford shot at him and got his rifle. The corral is about 380 paces from the house and the belief is that Headon shot the weapon hidden in the bushes, which is impossible. It is also shown that Wofford's pistol had only three chambers loaded when he set out with Headon. It is a live chambered revolver. None of these cartridges were missing and an examination of the pistol showed that no shot had been recently fired from the other two chambers. One of these had empty shells in it, but it was an old one. Headon also took a falsehood when he said his brother had a pistol. Wofford, the other brother, had been in San Francisco the past two weeks.

The shot fired by Headon entered Wofford's neck about an inch and a half below and the same distance behind the right ear, emerging on the left side near the front part of the jawbone. The verdict of the jury was that Wofford had come to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by Headon.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

THE IRISH JOAN OF ARC AND THE WORK SHE HAS UNDERTAKEN.

Miss Anthony Answers Her Critics—The War for Plaiting—Woman's Wrap Is a Serious Question—To Party Water the Fashion in Gloves.

Miss Maud Gonne, who has been called the Irish Joan of Arc, because of all she has done for the Irish national movement, is about to visit the United States. The main object of her visit will be in reference to the centennial celebration to be held in Ireland next year.

Miss Gonne is the daughter of a colonel of the English army. All her people are Conservatives and on the side of England. While visiting friends in the North of Ireland she saw some cruel evictions. So touched was she by the sights she witnessed that she immediately resolved to throw in her lot with the sufferers.

She worked for a long time among the evicted tenants, then took up the amnesty question, and when things looked dark and gloomy at home because of the Partition split she went to France, where her reception was most flattering. Her latest move is to start a paper called L'Irlande Libre, the title of which sufficiently indicates the object.

The following interesting answers have been given by Miss Gonne to questions propounded to her by a representative of The World:

What is the object of the movement you are organizing for 1898?

The first idea is to keep green the memory of the revolution of 1798 and of the heroes who gave up their lives struggling for their country's liberty. This is a national duty. It may appear sentimental, but it has immense advantages. Besides its direct influence in the way of promoting enthusiasm summer toilets so arranged are certainly very charming, but, as was recently mentioned, the straight folds easily mar when one is obliged to sit upon them, and this is a great disadvantage to the fashion, but it is greatly obviated by such diapers at the back, and not a few of the plaided skirts are now half covered by the overtrousers, which seems to be persistently making its way among approved summer styles.

A ribbon belt passed through a hand-some oblong buckle at the back of the figure, the ribbons tied either at the side or in front in a smart looking empire bow, will still be popular until to the waist of abundance go. The most usual method of tying the ribbon is to form somewhat long loops standing upward, with corresponding loops below the waist. These look better when slightly irregular in length. Attention to such details may appear unnecessary, but in reality they are not unimportant. Much more depends on trifles of this sort in the general effect of a gown than might be supposed. It is the Frenchwoman's attention to the minor details of her toilet, however trifling, that has endowed her countrywomen with the well-merited reputation of being the best dressed women in the world. Do she parlor maid or maid-servant, it is all the same. Alas! they are as perfectly and charmingly dressed as their several circumstances will allow them to be.—New York Post.

Summer Wraps.

The matter of summer wraps and coats is a particularly serious one this season, for the recent styles of dress demand some outer garment, and, yet, in spite of the sleeves being smaller, do not seem exactly suited to always being worn with coats and jackets. There is an unusual number of different styles in the wraps, and all sorts of materials are used, while in many cases two or three materials are combined. There are also several shapes to choose from, and there is a great difference in the weight among them, as it would seem as though every one might be suited and find a garment becoming and at the same time useful. All reports to the contrary, neck trimmings are very full, and chiffon and muslin-like do so not yet finished from the list of fashionable fabrics. On the contrary, they seem to be more in favor than ever.

Irreducible trimmings, jet, silk, satins and velvets—all these old favorites are again used, until positively some of the new capes look as though the contents of a treasure trunk had been scattered in order to secure the desired result. All the smartest styles have silk linings, and not only black silk, but all the many colored taftans are employed for this purpose, thus showing that the well-gowned woman of today demands a good finish in everything she wears and is not content with a smart outline to her wrap and a cheap collar lining inside. This very detail of finish is one reason that the new things look so smart and fine and have the desired appearance of being absolutely fresh. Two silks put together add each in the other's beauty, and it does not follow that the expense is greatly increased, for two cheap silks are better than one expensive one made up on cheap lining.—Harper's Bazaar.

To Party Water.

In an interesting talk given before the Brooklyn Woman's club by Mrs. E. M. Richards from the Institute of Technology of Boston the speaker told most prominently of the advances being made in the study of domestic science.

In the discussion which followed Mrs. Richards' talk many practical questions were asked by the eager housekeepers who largely made up the Woman's club. The answer to one of them will be of interest to every housekeeper. This is in relation to the amount of water for the purpose of strengthening the British fleet. Foreign nations have been led to believe that the Irish people are willing to bend the knee to their oppressors if thereby they gain a mere passing advantage.

"All this is a great injustice. The best way to counteract it is to invite delegates from the liberty-loving countries to Ireland to take part in the centennial celebration of next year. They will then have an opportunity of witnessing the enthusiasm of the people, of seeing that they are dissatisfied with English rule and that they have ample reason to do so."—Patsy Cox, New York World.

Miss Anthony Answers Her Critics.

An interview lately appeared in the St. Louis Republic with Mrs. Beckwith of Brooklyn, who accused the leaders of the suffrage movement of being in it from mere party motives and of making "a fat thing" out of it. Miss Anthony and others were mentioned by name. Miss Anthony wrote to The Republic in reply. She referred to her long connection with the movement and commented:

"During that time I have never had $1 for my services, nor have I ever received any money from the national association for my suffrage work. In the last 50 years, I am usually paid for my lectures by any society which sends me to come to a special place. To all of the laborious state campaigns, including the long, hard one in California last year, I have given my services without money and without price. The various bequests that have been left to me to use at my discretion have all been appropriated to the suffrage cause. Not a dollar of them has found its way into my pocket, and the slender income upon which I live is derived from an annuity purchased for me by my friends.

"Not one officer of the National Woman Suffrage association is or ever has been paid for her services, and most of these women have sacrificed many years of hard work and a large amount of their own money. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the national organizer, goes to her office every morning and, after a full day's valuable work without a cent of salary or other financial remuneration, and this she has done for several years. She is able to do this because her husband is a man of good business and comfortable income. Rev. Anna H. Shaw depends for her own support and that of a number of relatives whom she is educating upon the money received for her lectures, which are always furnished to suffrage associations at reduced rates and very often absolutely donated to them. I do not know one of the leading workers in the suffrage association who is making any money whatever out of it, and I do know that all of them could make a great deal of money if they would use their abilities in other directions. The great obstacle to our success is the lack of funds to carry on the work."

The Fashion in Gloves.

Fashion has changed more than usual as regards gloves the last year owing to the change that has been made in sleeves. It is quite impossible, now that the sleeves come so far down over the hands and the so tightly about the wrists, to wear the long gloves, and the manufacturers which have been in favor so long are uncomfortable and bulky with almost all the new gowns and jackets that have the new sleeves.

One button glove cannot be sold to have met with universal approval, but are occasionally worn. The length, however, is equal to that of a two button glove. Two buttons have this season quite superseded the three and four, but they also are longer than two button gloves were formerly made. Heavy kid and kidkin are generally used for them, as they are, as a rule, street gloves. For summer wear there is one style of white suede made on the same lines, and a heavy white glove kid with heavy stitching is also worn with wash gloves.

White glove, two, three and even four button, heavily stitched gloves are set in favor for smart occasions—calling receptions, etc. Even the stoutest person when wearing them does not seem to be of much avail. In consequence many women prefer the black suede, which certainly are more economical, and yet are not so effective.

Glove Bachelor.

"Let no one suppose my aim is to promote bachelorhood, feminine or masculine. On the contrary, it is to promote matrimony, but at the same time the happiest and best interests of the women who marry." Such is the declaration of the woman who is known as the most famous bachelor girl of the century. Miss Alice E. Mosley of Baltimore has started a novel and apparently difficult mission—that of making converts to the cause of bachelorhood in her own sex. In pursuance of this idea she has formed a society and started an active campaign. However, the converts are not so binding or so unreasonably as might be supposed to the promise not to marry before the age of 25.

I should not take the time or space to make even so much of a statement as this were it not that such attacks as that of Mrs. Beckwith are frequently made, and though I do not mind them personally I fear that they may injure the cause of woman suffrage, which I value above all else in the world."

The War for Plaiting.

A wild craze has set in among the ultra fashionables for materials heat pressed in the manner known as sun plaiting, accordion plaiting, etc. To quote from a famous French fashion designer, "Every woman who respects herself must wear the radical plaiting in some form or other." This mode of manipulating goods both thin and weighty extends to whole costumes, waistles, etc., and in Paris much of the newest expensive underwear is killed or accordion plaited. Some of the fresh summer toilets so arranged are certainly very charming, but, as was recently mentioned, the straight folds easily mar when one is obliged to sit upon them, and this is a great disadvantage to the fashion, but it is greatly obviated by such diapers at the back, and not a few of the plaided skirts are now half covered by the overtrousers, which seems to be persistently making its way among approved summer styles.

A Beau. Statuette.

The statuette is a feature of smart statuary. Just now we are using the little Louis XV rococo frame or some kind of circle to inclose it. The bow-knot is, of course, in evidence, and the statuette's art supplies very dainty variations of this Frenchy design.

For many years the custom of stamping the address with white ink on gray or blue paper has been seen at intervals in this country, but London sends over the fad in something new. An authority says that the address dice in London are larger and sunk deeper than those made in America, and thus allow the white ink or paint to stand forth in bolder relief. American engravers cut their dies, while those in England and France stamp their letters into steel blocks by a powerful letter stamp. This makes the cutting much deeper and sharper and gives a better effect than our own.

A Woman Warden.

A woman has acted as warden of the hospital in Sutter county, Cal., for several years. The grand jury of that county, in its recent report, says: "We visited the hospital and find therein seven patients. On conversing with them we find that they are satisfied with their treatment. The wards and dining room are neat and well kept, and they are well supplied with wholesome food and medicine. We find that the present warden has proved herself efficient and capable and has performed her duties in a most satisfactory manner."
